YORK
UNIVERSITÉ
UNIVERSITY

York University recognizes that many Indigenous Nations have longstanding relationships with the territories upon which York University campuses are located that precede the establishment of York University. York University acknowledges its presence on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations. The area known as Tkaronto has been care taken by the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy and the Huron-Wendat. It is now home to many First Nation, Inuit and Métis communities. We acknowledge the current treaty holders, the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. This territory is subject of the Dish with One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement to peaceably share and care for the Great Lakes region.

Our Anti-Black Racism Strategy

At LA&PS, we value diversity, equity and social justice. Our Faculty goals align with York's Decolonizing, Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (DEDI) Strategy, Indigenous Framework and Framework on Black Inclusion.

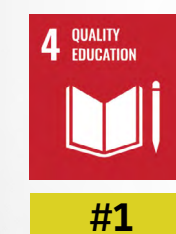

In response to systematic and institutionalized anti-Black racism in Canada, and in consultation with staff, students and faculty, we have developed an Anti-Black Racism Strategy. This is the first step in fulfilling our responsibility to address anti-Black racism and all forms of discrimination.

Commitment to Sustainability

We stand with York in our commitment to protecting the planet and ensuring all people enjoy peace and prosperity by advancing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs). These ideals are celebrated in everything we do, from classroom teaching and community partnerships to financial aid and research.

York University ranks in the top 10 nationally for 12 of the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals (Times Higher Education Impact Rankings, 2025).

Study Abroad

Don’t just learn about the world – experience it! You can earn credits toward your degree at one of York’s 120+ international partner institutions in more than 40 countries through an independent exchange program. Or spend your summer months studying abroad with your classmates and a York professor at a partner school. We also offer global internships in a variety of sectors including research, industry, NGOs and so much more!

Financial Support

At LA&PS we want to recognize your academic success and provide a financial boost to those who need it.

Here are just some of the scholarships and awards available to incoming students:

The Tom Janes Award for Black LA&PS Scholars: Valued at $5,000 and awarded to full-time undergraduate students entering their first year of study in the Faculty.

The Faculty of Liberal Arts & Professional Studies Entrance Award: Valued at $1,700 and available to students with an admission average of 85% or higher.

The C. Jane Banfield Scholarship in the Social Sciences: Valued at $2,000 and awarded to incoming full-time undergraduate students studying in any field of the social sciences at LA&PS, who demonstrate academic excellence.
